JUGHEAD NO.127 DEC. MEMBERSHIP—FIFTEEN CENTS

FIRST PRIZE — $5.00

REPORTER
DIANE PENDLETON
1220 South Troy
Chicago 23, Ill.

Dear Archie,

I own two parakeets named Jay and Ray. They look exactly alike. You can hardly tell them apart. One day father phoned the T.V. repairman to ask would he come to fix our television. The repairman said he would come over that afternoon. While he was taking off the back of the T.V. set, Ray and Jay were flying around inside the house. Well, he took out the picture tube and forgot to put the back of the T.V. on. After he left, father went to work while mother and I went shopping. I had completely forgotten about the parakeets still being out of their cage and that my bedroom window was still open. I was sure they had flown away and mother kept telling me not to worry. When we got home I couldn't find them anywhere. About ten minutes after we had stopped looking for my parakeets the repairman came back to replace the picture tube he had fixed. That evening father came home and decided to watch the baseball game on T.V. Well, he kept hearing rattling noises and he thought something was loose in the T.V., so he opened the back of the television to see what was loose. When the back was off what a surprise to see two birds fly out. It was Ray and Jay. While my mother and I were laughing with joy, father kept saying, "What's going on?" After we told him he laughed so hard. We all had another good laugh as my birds were chirping as happy as could be.

SECOND PRIZE — $3.00

ETIQUETTE

Etiquette is not a recently discovered thing. From the ancient times man has found ways to act in social life.

Cavemen probably began the custom of shaking hands. When two men met they acted a gesture of friendship by shaking hands.

Chinese show friendship by shaking their own hands when they meet someone. This is an ancient Chinese custom.

Many savages rub noses with one another to show their approval of someone. In the days of old, a knight would remove his helmet in front of a lady. The lady would curtsy. In Tibet a man would stick out his tongue when a guest would leave. To us, this custom would seem strange and rude, but to them, it's a gracious gesture.

THIRD PRIZE — $2.00

REPORTER
EMILY GEOGHEGAN
P.O. Box 336
Wolfeboro, N.H.

Dear Archie,

I would like to tell you about all the troubles we had when we took a 300 mile trip to see our aunt and uncle. As soon as we started we heard a crash in the trunk. It was a pitcher and glass set we were going to give them as a present. Later on our left rear tire got a flat. It took a half hour to fix it. When we stopped for gasoline we found our engine was overheated. We had gone ten miles when it began to rain. We stopped at a restaurant until it stopped raining. It got warm very quickly so we went to our car and put the windows down. We had just put the windows down when we rode through a big mud puddle. We all got wet. We had other mishaps, but all of our delays made us three hours late.

FOURTH PRIZE — $1.00

A speaker stepped up to the platform, and addressed his audience in these words: "As I understand it, my job is to talk to you. Your job is to listen. If you finish before I do, I hope you will let me know."

Archie: You are the sunshine of my life, you reign in my heart. Without you, life is but a dreary cloud.

Veronica: Are you proposing, or is this a weather report?

Miss Grundy: Jughead, come up here this instant and give me whatever it is you have in your mouth.

Jughead: I wish I could. It's a toothache.

Miss Grundy: Moose, if I had two sandwiches and you had two sandwiches, what would we have?

Moose: Lunch.

Jughead: I dreamed last night I ate a five-pound marshmallow.

Reggie: So what.

Jughead: When I woke up my pillow was gone.
